"Tales of the town" are never half told, or there would be Old Harry to play.

For the benefit of the Czar and our other Russian subscribers we will say that the Washington Post has no hard feelings when it makes Roosevelt appear to be a bigger man than the Bear in its cartoons.

Scientists now say that Eve was 140 feet tall. She could hold out in the palm of her hand several men of equal corporocity to ours, and no wonder it was that Adam came to time when she said, "Eat!"

[illegible]egrams say the Japanese [illegible]horities at Seoul, Corea, have advised the Corean Emperor to arrest Yi Yong Ik, who has been acting the role of dictator and been very pernicious in his friendship for Russia. Mr. Yi Yong Ik is probably something of a Big Ike.

We see that the State board of directors of the South Carolina dispensary liquor system advertises for the submission of propsals to furnish the dispensary with liquors. Whiskies are graded X, XX, and XXX. We presume the first X is what they call "fuss X" across the border.

Fellows who go from the "rural districts" to Congress and can't live in Washington on $5,000 a year, ought to remember that they are not sent there by the plain toilers to try to keep up with the high flyers. It will get so after while that no man can go to Congress unless he is rich. Something is wrong about the thing somewhere.

While a party of sports were engaged in a game of poker in the Colonial Club at San Francisco Saturday night, five men slipped in and held up the bunch with revolvers, took $1,900 in money, watches and valuables, took the keys from a bank clerk and went to the bank and got $500 more in loose change. They left the men in the poker room tied face down to the floor and all of them probably got "cold feet."

There is one negro in Wilmington whom the city practically owns. He is Henderson Hayes, who is a habitual drunkard and serves three-fourths of his time under sentence. Mayor Springer suggested on Thursday in the municipal court that it would be a good idea to give him a sound thrashing the next time he is before the court. Of course, to whip Hayes would be an unlawful act, but he would let you whip him every day if would give him a drink of liquor. It would seem that he could be gotten at under the vagrancy law.

WALKER BOUND OVER

PRELIMINARY TRIAL HELD.

Charged With Embezzling Rather Large Amount from Odd Fellows Lodge, of Which He Was Treasurer—Bond of $250 Given.

Was the reported robbery of ex-Alderman Andrew J. Walker last New Year's night a fake for the purpose of deferring settlement with or defrauding the colored lodge of Odd Fellows, of which he was treasurer?

Justice Fowler, after an extended hearing in the Superior Court room yesterday afternoon, held that there is probable cause that such was the purpose of Walker, and that the robbery might not have occurred at all. Walker was held in a justified bond of $250 to appear at the next term of New Hanover Superior Court, beginning April 4th, to answer the charge of embezzlement. Walker secured Henry Green, colored, by mortgage on real estate, and Green became his surety in the amount named.

The preliminary trial attracted a large number of spectators and witnesses, many of whom were members of the lodge from which it is alleged that Walker embezzled the money, amounting to $376.84. The defendant was present with his counsel, Hon. John D. Bellamy, while the lodge was represented by Messrs. Marsden Bellamy and Marsden Bellamy, Jr. The hearing began at 3:30 o'clock and it was after 6 o'clock before all the testimony had been heard and counsel had addressed the court in behalf of their respective clients. Walker went on the stand first and told the story of the robbery, saying that he kept all the funds of the lodge in an iron safe at his house; that on the night in question, he wrapped up the amount of money to the credit of the lodge in a piece of paper and started to Ruth Hall with it to settle with the finance committee and to turn the balance over to a banking committee which had been chosen to succeed the treasurer in custody of the funds of the lodge. He then told the story of the robbery, substantially as printed in the newspapers the day after the occurrence. He said that when the men, who robbed him, ran off in opposite directions they had nothing in their hands that he saw. Policeman H. W. Howell, who was visiting in the neighborhood, heard the cries of Walker and went to his rescue, was the next witness and told of the finding of the man seated on some curbstones. He saw no one fleeing and the prosecution attempted to bring out that if the men had fled as Walker said, it would have been possible for him to have seen them. Although Walker said in his testimony that the men who ran off had nothing in their hands, Officer Howell said that as soon as he arrived on the scene, Walker told him that one of the men had dropped something and directed him where to find it. The officer said he went to the point indicated and picked up the end of a whip, which was loaded in one end with lead. The instrument was produced in court by Officer Howell.

WHO WROTE THIS LETTER?

The sensation of the trial occurred when Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy offered in evidence the following letter which was addressed to "Constable Tuck Savage, Wilmington," and mailed at 11 A. M. Jan. 25th, the spelling being literal:

"WILMINGTON, N. C.

"MR. SAVAGE: I am the man who struck Andrew Walker on the night of Jan. 1st. I did it at the solicitation of Eligha Green, who was to pay me part of the money for the job. I struck the blow that felled Walker to the ground and the other fellow that was with me took Walker's money. Green told us where to meet the man Walker and we met him just as he got off the car. I did not want to do Walker any bodily injury. I only wanted to strike him hard enough to put him out of bizness for a few minits. The other fellow stood by and got the money. He said he was goin to take the money to Green and he Green was to give me my share and a job as a header in cotton. He failed to give me the amount that he promised me. I only got a few dollars. Green said the money was his or I would not have had nuthin to with it. I am leaving the town to-day but Green and the friend of his that was with me has got the money, cause he robbed me out of my share of it. I am goen and I thought I would let it be known that Eligha Green is the low scamp that had Walker fixed. Good-by.

"A CITIZEN."

By questioning Walker, Mr. Jno. D. Bellamy showed that Elijah Green belonged to an opposing faction in the lodge to Walker. He is a stevedore by trade and occupied with other officers a seat with counsel for the prosecution. Upon cross examination, Mr. Marsden Bellamy put Walker on his guard and asked him if he did not have an educated daughter who was nearly grown and if that was not her handwriting. Walker denied that it was his daughter's handwriting and Mr. Marsden Bellamy asked that the court preserve that letter.

FURTHER EVIDENCE INTRODUCED.

Messrs. C. R. Davis, W. T. Mercer and others testified as to having come up to Walker where he was reported robbed. For the prosecution Drs. T. R. and J. H. Mask, colored, testified that Walker's injury was only trivial and that in their opinion the blood on his nose was not fresh blood. The elder Dr. Mask said as a friend of Walker, he went to him next day and told him that he (Dr. Mask) was being asked questions about the extent of the injuries and he (Walker) had better settle the matter up in some way. The cross examination tended to prove that Walker might have been sand-bagged and very little injury would appear externally. Officer Howell had testified that there was a knot on Walker's head about the size of a guinea egg. A number of lodge officers testified that Walker was dilatory about paying sick benefit and had told several that he would get the money out of the bank. At the trial yesterday Walker said he kept the money in his house and the bank cashiers summoned to prove that Walker had no deposits with them were discharged. The case will next be heard now in the Superior Court.

WAGON CRASHES INTO CAR.

Collision on North Front Street Late Last Night—Motorman Injured.

A pair of runaway horses attached to a baggage wagon, which had been at the railroad station awaiting the arrival of the Charlotte train, was in collision with street car No. 16 in front of Tucker's marble yards, on Front street, last night about 11:30 o'clock. The team was left by the driver at the end of the shed at the station and the horses became frightened at something and dashed off down the street. The car was going north and the two came together with a crash. A big hole was jammed in the vestibule of the car and the motorman was knocked off. He received painful, but not serious injuries. The coupling pole of the wagon went through the vestibule of the car and was broken. Conductor Lucien Bishop ran to the front of the car and cut off the current when the motorman was disabled.

BASKET BALL LAST NIGHT.

Y. M. C. A. Won from A. C. L. in First of the League Series.

The basket ball game at the City Hall last night, the first in the series to be played in the league recently organized, was won by the Y. M. C. A. over the A. C. L. team in a score of 14 to 5. The extraordinary plays were well divided between the teams and the game was a good one. The next contest of the league series will be between the Y. M. C. A. and Boys' Brigade team next Friday night.

After the league game last night teams from the Junior Department, captained by Louis Orrell and Louis Poisson played, the score having resulted in a victory for the first-named by 7 to 4. The Junior contest was also very interesting.

Cotton and Naval Stores.

The tone of the local cotton market changed from dull to steady at 13 cents yesterday. Receipts were only 35 bales against 699 same day last year. Receipts during the past week have been only 793 against 5,617 same week last season. Receipts since September 1st, have been 315,317 against 309,758 during a similar period last season. Naval store receipts the past week were as follows: Spirits, 129; rosin, 2,317; tar, 1,451; crude, 194. Same week last year: Spirits, 89; rosin, 3,035; tar, 3,716; crude, 198. All crop year receipts of naval stores are short except crude in which there is a gain.

Mr. Bailey and the City.

Mr. E. P. Bailey has another "crow to pick" with the city officials. Yesterday he desired to drive to the residence of Mrs. Potter, on Market, between Second and Third streets. The thoroughfare was blocked for the paving going on there and Mr. Bailey took the sidewalk. He was immediately arrested by Policeman G. S. Phillips and at the City Hall he was recognized for his appearance to-day. Mr. Bailey complimented the officer for doing his duty, but he will have some points of additional interest to argue with the Mayor to-day.

Its Value in Robeson.

An esteemed subscriber in a populous section of Robeson county writes thus in a business letter to the STAR: "I don't see how I can get along without the STAR. It is wise, conservative and clear cut. It kept a host of Democrats out of the Populist party all through this section of the country. There is no paper in the State to which the Democratic party is more indebted than to the Wilmington STAR. It condenses well; nutshells facts and principles."

The Coast Line Strike

There were no developments yesterday in the Coast Line roadway strike. Both sides express themselves as well pleased with the situation and an unbiased opinion is hard to arrive at. No further trouble has been reported all along the line and the railroad officials are not anticipating any.

HARD CASES, THESE.

Smallpox Contacts Quarantined at Third Street Residence Make Their Escape.

ONE LANDED IN THE JAIL.

Another More Fortunate Made for the Country—No New Patients Yesterday—Public Taking to Recommendation for Vaccination.

The police and health authorities had no end of trouble yesterday in maintaining the quarantine of the fourteen smallpox contacts at the residence of Dr. Anders, on Third street, nearly opposite the City Hall, from which the patient, Mr. Dodd, was sent to the pest house Thursday. All save two of those confined are in perfect obedience to the every wish of the health authorities, but the two composing the disturbing element are the hardest cases the quarantine officers have yet had to deal with. They have made repeated escapes and ordinary quarantine methods seem to avail nothing toward their retention.

The first to give trouble was J. E. Register, proprietor of a wood yard in the city. A quarantine officer had been kept only in front of the residence until yesterday and some time during the night, Register made his escape from the unguarded rear. His absence was noted yesterday morning and a search of the city having failed to disclose his whereabouts, immediately telegrams were sent to adjoining towns asking for his detention. The officers think he has gone to his former home at Elizabethtown, N. C.

But the most elusive one of the two was W. B. Smith, of Wilson or Rocky Mount, who had been engaged to weigh the mails for the government and had begun to board at the home of Dr. Anders the day before the presence of smallpox there was discovered. He escaped also the back way yesterday, but Capt. Bob Green, chief quarantine officer, was soon on his trail and found him at Second and Princess streets. He was returned to the quarantined residence in a jiffy and another guard was placed in the rear. He had hardly set foot in the house again, however, before he eluded the rear guard about 5 o'clock and disappeared almost as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him up. Chief of Police Furlong and Capt. Green, however, began to station guards at all points of egress from the city and they went themselves to the Front street station of the Coast Line. Smith was at length spotted by Capt. Green and pulled out of a coach on the northbound A. C. L. train as he was about to leave for his home. This time he was not permitted to go back to the quarantined house, but was locked up at the station house. Chief Furlong said that in all probability he will be charged with wilful violation of the health regulations.

Smith is confined in an isolated part of the colored ward in the station house, where he will be unable to come in contact with any one likely to contract the disease.

There were no developments in the smallpox situation yesterday. It was announced in the schools that the Board of Health recommended vaccination and that safeguard was taken by many parents during the day. However, there have been few applications for vaccination to Dr. Harper who will be at the City Hall daily at 10 A. M. to attend to any who are unable to pay for vaccination.

CLEAN, WHOLESOME COMEDY TO-NIGHT

"A Friend of the Family" at Academy This Afternoon and Evening.

Patrons of the theatre who enjoy comedy with the usual adjunct horseplay or vulgarity eliminated are to be treated to one of the cleverest plays of this nature that has been produced since the good old days of "The Private Secretary," "My Friend from India" and "Charley's Aunt," which made millions laugh. It is the uproariously funny comedy, "A Friend of the Family," which will be at the Academy of Music at special matinee this afternoon and again to-night. The matinee prices will be 25 and 50 cents. Seats for the night performance are now on sale at Plummer's.

The piece is said to be one of the funniest, laugh-provoking farcial comedies ever written, and the large company of artists selected especially for their adaptability to play a particular character to take advantage of every opportunity contained in the bright dialogue to hold the attention of the audience from the very rise of the first curtain. A refreshing feature of this comedy is the fact that it is not necessary to sit through a long first act before the story commences to unfold itself for one of the most amusing scenes ever witnessed in a legitimate comedy, presents itself at the very start and the situations and complications follow each other so rapidly that the audience is kept in one paroxysm of laughter.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mrs. Mary E. Edwards, 430 Bute street, Norfolk, Va., is anxious for information as to the whereabouts of her brother, John T. Moore, a printer, who disappeared from home eight years ago. He was short and stout, dark hair mingled with gray, had been paralyzed on left side, but walked without crutches, gray mustache and small blue eyes. Any information regarding him will be thankfully received. There is a little money coming to him and I am sure he is in need of it as he could only set a small amount of type.

COUNCIL LEAVES FOOTBALL

Sudden Withdrawal from University of Virginia Occasions Comment.

A special to the Norfolk Landmark from the University of Virginia says:

Walter W. Council, acknowledged to be the best all-round football player in the South, and alike proficient in baseball, has suddenly taken French leave and gone to parts unknown. His associates in college are puzzled at his departure, and are at a loss to assign any cause for his sudden leave taking. His baggage was at the depot and he was in the act of purchasing his ticket before any of his fellow-students became aware of his intentions. When last heard from he was in Palm Beach, Fla.

Council had made nearly all of his tickets, and would have easily graduated in medicine next session. He was an unusually good student, despite his active participation in every form of athletics.

Council came to Virginia from the University of North Carolina in the Fall of 1901, and played on both the football and baseball teams of that and the succeeding sessions. His record on the gridiron during the past season was such a brilliant one that he was unanimously chosen captain of the 1904 eleven. On account of his father's objection to football, his selection to the captaincy of the team was never made public, in the hope that parental objection would be withdrawn before the season rolled round.

Some trouble in this connection is believed to be the reason for his withdrawal from the University. Mr. Council's father is a wealthy lumber dealer and merchant of Wananish, N. C.

Woman Rich on Cotton.

By speculating in cotton since she has been a guest of the De Soto, Mrs. A. V. Wallace, of New York, has cleaned up $60,000 in hard cash, according to the Savannah News. Upon an investment of $5,000, she has cashed in the sum named in just fourteen weeks. Mrs. Wallace's account was made when cotton was quoted at 9.58 in the New York market. She is on the "bull" side of the market and has bought cotton on the New York market for the last five years. She held on to her account until cotton reached the high water mark, a few weeks ago.

Sauce of Greensboro Fire.

Greensboro Record: "It is too horrible to think for a moment that any one would, in cold blood, set fire to a building like Greensboro Female College, with its hundred or more inmates, and burn it up, yet there is already strong evidence that this was done—evidence brought out or that crept out to day, the particulars of which are unnecessary to mention. Still, there are so many ways for a fire to start that it is not safe to arrive at conclusions without close investigation. Speaking about defective wiring, the wire has been removed since the last fire, so that settles this part of it, but it was settled before, for it was demonstrated that this could not have been the cause."

Will Be Master of Highlander.

Captain J. C. Smith is expected to return from Fayetteville to-day. He has been engaged to take the steamer "Highlander" around to Columbia, S. C. He will be captain of the "Highlander" on her run from Columbia to points on the Congaree, Wateree and Santee rivers. Capt. Smith is a veteran steamboat master and his selection for the new line is a good one.

CHARGED WITH INTIMIDATION.

A. C. L. Strikers Held at Dupont for the Superior Court Grand Jury.

[Special to Savannah News.]

VALDOSTA, GA., Feb. 18.—Mose Knight, a section boss on the Atlantic Coast Line and one of the strikers, was arrested this morning on a warrant from Dupont charging him with trying to intimidate the employes of the road by threats of violence. He was carried to Dupont, and gave bond of $50. He demanded a hearing by the grand jury. Knight has had charge of a section near Ousley, and it is said that he was one of the committeemen who went to Wilmington to lay the grievances of the employes before the officials of the road.

Coming of Chairman Burton.

Washington correspondence: "On behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of Newbern, Congressman Thomas has extended to Hon. Theodore E. Burton and members of the committee on rivers and harbors an invitation to visit Newbern and examine the needs of the Neuse and Trent rivers and the waters tributary thereto. Mr. Burton has indicated his desire to accept the invitation when he goes to Wilmington on an invitation of the Chamber of Commerce of that place. Mr. Thomas will endeavor to impress upon the committee the importance of an inland water-way and the rivers and harbors of his district."

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING. FEB. 20.

A NATION OF STRATEGISTS.

In the light of the cablegrams from the East concerning the movements of the Japanese and Russians, we had marked out on our war map what appeared to be Japan's line of offensive operations, and, conceding the success of the Yellow Man's navy and army, we had it down fine as to what Russia's line of defence would be. We were about to mark off the battlefields when here came other cablegrams denying the truth of the Japs' movements and stating that Russia had not done this or that. Of course we had to tear up our map and let the Russians off a while longer.

Speaking of what we know about strategy that would gobble up any kind of an army, we may let ourself down easy by saying that we know about as much about it as the other American scribes whose opinions are worth 30 cents for the bunch, owing probably to the conflicting news coming up aginst us.

If we were to judge from the strategic editorials in the American press, one would presume that we are a nation of strategists, and that Roosevelt would be safe in kangarooing newspaper writers right up to the rank of general when he wants men who have got the military business down fine. When we landed in American we began fighting the Indians and putting them out of business because they were monkeying about on land that we considered would make good crops and be suitable for us to raise our families. The fool Indian was not civilized and did not know even how to make corn whiskey, or other firewater, so we chased him off the earth and substituted what we supposed was civilization and Christianity. We had the tools to do it with, too, and whether the Indians think we were civilized or not, we have formed a great nation that is a Policeman, the delimitization of whose beat extends even to Chins and Corea on the eastern confines of Asia.

We have fought all kinds of wars since we put the Indians to sleep, and when we found out that we could lick any old thing on land we turned our attention to the great waters, and now we float our fighting machines in all seas, so that we are rated as "some punkins" among the civilized world powers. We mention this to show how we came to be a nation of strategists and to justify the editors in assuming to know all about how a war ought to be fought.

If Russia can't lick the Yellow man over in Manchuria and Corea she ought to be ashamed of herself. We have cleaned up the Red man, stood back whole bunches of the White man, done a plenty to the Black man, have recently put the fixings on the Yellow man in the Philippines, and Brunan-Barilla finally fixed things so we can cross the American continent in our own canal and be in a better position than ever to make all kinds of races hide out.

Now that we have planted our prodigious civilization in the former haunts of the non-producing, but consuming, and non-commercial Red man, we think Russia is a hog for wanting to push a few Yellow men off the earth to make way for her civilization. But while the Czar goes down to the chapel to pray now and Roosevelt probably goes to bed without kneeling down, we consider the Russians as barbarians and not at all in it with our brand of civilized and enlightened expansionists and benevolent assimilation colonists!

MAY BE PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER

We haven't paid our respects to Mr. Shafroth, the Democrat who a few days ago gave up his seat in Congress because he had been elected by fraud. If he is big enough for Vice President we might need him in our business if he stands for some of the forgotten lore of Jackson and Jefferson.

Anyhow, Mr. Shafroth has proven that he is conscientious, honest and untainted, but he will want to kick himself if it turns out that the Republican who got his seat had enough fraud committed in his behalf to overbalance the fraud practiced by Mr. Shafroth's overzealous friends.

We have seen many so-called pictures of the harbor of Port Arthur, as printed in some of our exchanges. They don't "look alike" as much as the ordinary "coon." Somebody is faked by the cut makers.

Mysterious Circumstance.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

HOW DOES THE ACCOUNT STAND

We wonder if the Republican campaign book will contain a tabulated statement of the profits that the United States have gotten out of their colonial possessions?

We know what the assets are—a lot of island, yellow men and trouble—but let the national book-keeper substract the costs from the receipts, so we can know what's coming to us. We may need a little change in case San Domingo is posted for sale on the court house door.

We hope the Macon, Ga., Telegraph is not preparing us for the worst by throwing out this hint:

"National expansion is a policy that cannot be run with hot air. It comes high in cold cash and the people must pay the price."

If we are out any "cold cash," we would also like to know how many lives our colonies have cost us and how many of our obstreperous subjects have been put out of business.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— If we are to adopt the platform of 1900, why not complete the job by re-adopting the almanac of that year also?—Macon Telegraph.

—— Hanna made friends wherever he went. Roosevelt makes enemies without going anywhere; and that's the difference.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

—— Senator Foraker might be willing to drop that bill if the administration would issue a neutrality proclamation on the trust question. —Washington Post.

—— Mr. Addicks declares that either he or a Democrat will be the next United States Senator from Delaware. It is kind of him to point the way for the Delaware voters to unload him.—Washington Post.

—— It is not to the credit of the Southern negroes that white labor is pushing its way into the cotton fields to the displacement of black labor. The New Orleans States calls attention to the fact, brought out in the statistics of the census bureau, that of the 24,000,000 acres of cotton planted in 1903, 14,000,000 acres were tilled by white laborers. The greater efficiency of the whites more than compensates for the higher wages paid to them.—Philadelphia Record.

PREMATURE AGE

Is brought on by a failing body, as many Wilmington readers know.

Failure to provide for the welfare of the body causes the body to fail, and brings on premature age. Men of 35 who are afflicted with kidney troubles walk about like men of 75. It's easy to cure it, and to regain the elastic step that you should have. A well known Wilmington man tells how.

J. A. White, electrician for the Coast Line R. R., at Rocky Mount, residing at 206 North Sixth street, says: "I have had great trouble with my back, right across the loins, and when I sat still for a while I hardly knew how to move and when I did you would think I was seventy-five years old. They are pains all over me and I coulp not tell where they were to strike me. I used liniments and lots of remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and used them. They helped me in a very short time and seemed almost to oil up my joints, in fact, I have not had the pains since I used them."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— At Salisbury on Wednesday, the trial of Thomas and Chalmers White, for killing Russell Sherill, has been continued. Judge Allen set the case for the September term of court.

— Concord Times: Dr. S. A. Grier, of Rocky river, informs us that he killed a hog recently which weighed 710 pounds gross and 618 pounds net. Is not this the champion hog of the State?

— Asheville Citizen: As far as we have seen, every Democratic paper in the South paid high tribute to the memory of the late Senator Hanna. The "carpers" can find much food for reflection in this.

— At Salisbury on Wednesday Judge Allen sent Mr. Thomas Foil, of Providence township, to jail for 24 hours for contempt of court. Foil was a witness and during the course of cross examination made use of an unchaste expression.

— Mr. Geo. Thomasson, near Morganton, will undergo an operation for necrosis of the lower jaw bone. Several years ago a tooth in the lower jaw began to decay at the top. It continued to decay until the roots disappeared. The flesh disappeared from the bone, and the operation is to remove about two inches of the bone.

— The Salisbury Cotton Mills has been forced to suspend temporarily, not on account of the high price of cotton, as is the case with a number of other mills, but because so many of the operatives are suffering from the effects of vaccination that it is impossible to operate the plant. Mr. Fowler says there is not a great deal of smallpox in Salisbury, but there are a few cases around Spencer, and it was thought wise to have all the mill people vaccinated.

— Caswell Democrat: The small pox scare is about over in the section south of here. It has been a mild epidemic and compulsory vaccination has been ordered in that section. Dr. Malloy informs us that no whites have taken the disease and it is confied to the negroes entirely. The moving about of the negroes has caused much trouble in the spreading of the cases at various points and they are the ones that carry it hither and thither.

— At Winston-Salem, on Tuesday, Sidney Moore, colored, was convicted of attempting to commit a criminal assault last June upon Miss Claude Pegram, a young lady of Forsyth county. Judge Allen gave the defendant the limit for this offence—15 years in the penitentiary. In passing sentence his honor stated that the community in which the crime was committed was to be commended for not taking the law in their own hands and lynching Moore. The prisoner persistently denied the charge against him, but Miss Pegram assured the jury and court that he was the right man.

— The action of the County Commissioners of Wilson county in revoking the licenses of the saloon men at Black Creek has not met with the approval of the court, to whom an appeal was taken by Mr. L. A. Barnes, who conducted business at that place. At Wilson, on Tuesday, Judge Moore ordered the commissioners to show cause for the revoking of the licenses. This body met yesterday and it is understood they have in turn decided to take an appeal to the Supreme Court to test the legality of their action. The township of Black Creek had an election some months ago under the Watts Bill, and the vote was in favor of licensing the sale of liquors, and it was for this reason the ruling of the County Commissioners was not upheld.

— Charlotte News, Feb. 16: Mr. J. C. McClure, of Mallard Creek township, was in the city to-day and was exhibiting the skull of a man, the skeleton of which his boys found in the old Henderson mine, located on his place. Yesterday while the boys were examining the shaft of the mine, they were attracted to a spot where a large pile of bones lay. On going to the spot the children were horrified to see that the bones were of a human being. They returned to the house and informed their father of what they had seen. Mr. McClure went to the mine and there in the 8-foot tunnel leading from the main shaft was the skeleton of a man. Mr. McClure says that he has owned the place on which the Henderson mine is located for the past 13 years and during that time, so far as he can recall, there has been no mysterious disappearance in that section. The skeleton bore evidence that the body had been in the mine several years. There was no flesh on the bones, they being as dry as a powder horn.

She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run-down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. A BUTCHERING OUTFIT.

A Simple and Convenient Arrangement For Out of Door Work.

Although old time customs in butchering are to some extent passing away, hog killing is still an important performance on many farms. A simple outfit for out of door work is shown in a cut originally contributed to the Ohio Farmer.

A post eight feet high has pivoted to its top a sweep fifteen feet long. This sweep has a hook on the short end and a rope on the long end. The scalding barrel, cleaning bench and hanging gallows are all on the circumference of the circle made by the short end of the sweep. With this arrangement one man at the long end of sweep can easily dip a hog and transfer it from one place to another, as may be desired. The cut also shows a good method of heating water. A bent piece of one and a half inch iron pipe enters the barrel in two places. A fire built under this pipe soon heats the water in the barrel, as the heat causes a rapid circulation of the water in the pipe and barrel.

Aspects of Farming.

Eugene Grubb, the good farmer of Garfield county, has been undergoing all sorts of experiences this fall with his 3,000,000 pound spud harvest. In these operations it has required the efforts of two drivers to operate the digger, four sorters drawn by a single horse with two in mesh, five pickers to pick and dump the spuds into the sorter, a man to run the machine, another man to sew sacks for each sorter, four men with teams to haul to the storage cellar, 50 by 200 feet; teams hauling sixty-two bushel sacks at a load, two men to help load in the field, two to store in the cellar, together with the proprietor and foreman, which constituted the working force. One day's results were 1,407 two bushel centals in storage ready for market when it looks good. The potatoes are first class, of medium size, white and as clean and free from dirt as a newly laid egg. The varieties are Perfect Peachblow and Grubb's White Cafe. While the editor of Field and Farm was down in Ohio not long ago he saw an old man and a small boy digging potatoes with a hand hoe in a five acre patch, and this is what they are pleased to call farming in that country.—Denver Field and Farm.

Pine Shavings as Manure.

Fresh pine shavings contain an acid and if used in large quantities will sour the land. When used for bedding and mixed with the manure there will be no damage. The ammonia in the liquids will correct the acid in the shavings. They should be used until well soaked and then mixed in the manure pile. Shavings handled in this way have been used for years with good results. They make a good absorbent and are easily handled in the manure. Fresh sawdust is much the same and should be soaked with liquid or well mixed in the pile before spreading on the ground. Old sawdust from ice houses that have been in use for some years may often be used as a mulch or even plowed into the ground without passing through the stable, but we consider it safer to use it as a bedding first. Pine needles are used at the south for mulching strawberries, but the strawberry will thrive in a soil so acid that many other crops could hardly grow. The prejudice against sawdust and shavings can usually be traced to results obtained from using them fresh.—Rural New Yorker.

A Seventeenth Century Ship.

In the battle of Dungeness between Admiral Torrington's fleet and the French, in 1690, the British seventy gun ship of the line Anne was run ashore and scuttled. She sank in the quicksands, where she has been buried until recently, when her hulk appeared at low tide. Many of her brass guns were found still on board.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The cotton market opened weak at an advance of one point to a decline of eleven points and for a time showed a declining tendency under outside liquidation and some room selling encouraged by disappointing cables and the very unsettled outlook in Europe as reflected by the morning papers. The active months, in the absence of bull support sold down something like twenty points below last night's finals, both here and in New Orleans. Later, however, both markets firmed up on a renewal of aggressive bull support and a more or less general demand which as prices worked up past last night's figures caught stop orders on the short side and resulted in a very firm and at times excited market. March was forced up to 13.90, May to 14.25 and July to 14.27, this being a net advance of forty to forty-six points on the active months and a gain from the low point of the morning of about sixty-seven to seventy points. It also represented an advance since the low point of last Wednesday of over a cent and a half a pound, and at this level there appeared to be considerable selling for profits, while it also appeared that the rooms were inclined to put out shorts in expectation of a speculative reaction. The local bull leader was an active buyer on the upturn, as were also the New Orleans bull leaders, and one of the factors in the advance was a report that the New Orleans stock was soon to be very materially reduced while the continued demand for May in the local market by prominent spot interests aroused apprehensions of a contemplated corner. Notwithstanding these various rumors the market was rather easier towards the close, selling off several points under the pressure referred to, and was finally barely steady at a net advance of fifteen to thirty-five points. Sales were estimated at 500,000 bales. The into sight figures proved quite as small as estimated, reaching only 151,671 bales, against 191,683 bales last year, pointing, it was considered, toward a very bullish visible supply statement to morrow. Receipts for the day were light at both the ports and interior points, and the estimates for to-morrow reflected a continued light movement.

Spot cotton closed steady and 75 points higher; middling uplands 14.50; middling gulf 14.75c; sales 2723 bales.

Cotton futures closed barely steady: February 13.60, March 13.75, April 13.95, May 14.10, June 14.10, July 14.12, August 13.87, September 12.18, October 11.48, November 11.16, December 11.15.

AS TO ADVERTISING.

[Printed by Request.]

We sometimes receive inquiries as to the standing of persons who advertise themselves in newspapers and magazines as Christian Science practitioners. We answer these inquiries by saying that Christian Scientists do not advertise, and it is safe to assume that the persons who thus bring themselves to the attention of the public are not in any manner identified with our denomination nor with its healing work. The following reference to the methods employed by unauthorized persons who pose as Christian Scientists, is copied from a previous issue of the Sentinel:—

"It is unnecessary for us to say that methods of advertising akin to those of quack doctors and vendors of patent nostrums are not countenanced by Christian Scientists. On the contrary, they are reprehended.

"Christian Scientists have done all they properly can do in the way of advertising when they unobtrusively make known the fact that they hold themselves in readiness to respond to calls for healing sickness or otherwise aiding those who desire such services as come within their province or line of duty."

The above is as true to-day as when it was written, and correctly sets forth the attitude of Christian Scientists as being one of willingness and readiness to help those who desire their ministrations, rather than that of soliciting the attention and patronage of persons who may be attracted by a skilfully worded advertisement.

Christian Science healing is not a thing of barter and sale; it is a holy ministry into which greed, selfishness and self seeking cannot enter. The commercialism that bids for patronage and dollars is inconsistent with the true sense of Christ-healing and must ultimately prove to be a delusion to both practitioner and patient. Christian Scientists know that those who would avail themselves of the healing power of this Science must turn to it naturally and without undue influence.

It may be urged that unless Christian Scientists advertise, the public will not know how nor where to find a practitioner, but this will not suffice as an excuse for adopting methods not in keeping with the proper reserve and dignity which befits the high calling of our ministry. Those who are ready for Christian Science will experience no difficulty in finding help and healing. There are but few communities in which some beneficiary of Christian Science cannot be found; the churches of the denomination are many, the free reading rooms maintained by the churches are easily accessible, and a comprehensive directory of practitioners is published in the official organs of the denomination.—Christian Science Sentinel.

The Late Corn.

My opinion is that it would pay many farmers to build a cheap stave silo and convert a portion of their late corn into silage this year, especially if they have young stock on their farms or can procure young stock at reasonable prices to feed this winter. I am not yet ready to say that it is the best for older cattle—i. e., feeding cattle—nor have I any thoughts of saying that it is not good feed for them. I have not yet proved that to my own satisfaction. Through the college of agriculture we have been conducting experiments along that line on our farm, and we expect to have some very interesting and valuable figures which will come out in bulletin form when the experiment is fully completed. I would not advise going to too much expense in putting up a permanent silo right at the start, for the reason that what will suit one farmer will not always be applicable to his neighbor, and therefore we must choose for ourselves. My experience has been so far that I am satisfied that the silo will be a part of the feeding apparatus for the ordinary farmer in the future. I think there is no better way of curing late corn in a wholesale way for economical feeding than the old fashioned way of cutting and shocking, and I would consider it the next or second method for curing late corn. Following this comes the shredder, but this year there has been such an abundance of roughness cut in the way of clover and grass that there will be no lack of roughness, and practically all the barns are full of that kind of feed. Of course shredded fodder should go into the barn to be at its best.—E. D. Funk, Illinois, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Crop Rotation.

Throughout the region north of the cotton belt there is a three crop rotation which may be regarded as a system with innumerable variations. These crops are corn, small grain—wheat, oats, barley, rye—and grass or legumes, and the period covered by the rotation in some of its variations is commonly four or five years and not infrequently extends to eight or ten or more years, the length of the period depending mostly upon the ability of the grass or legumes to remain productive. Sooner or later most of the tillable land that is not bottom land or is not devoted to one crop, fruit or vegetables, passes through this rotation, but often with interruptions or the admixture of other crops in the effort to adapt the products to markets, prices, soil, weather and the special or general objects of farming. In some regions which produce considerable tobacco, potatoes or beans a portion of the land that would otherwise be given to corn may be given to one of these crops in this general rotation.—G. K. Holmes.

The Details of Success.

The endless details which go to make success in operating a successful dairy farm, market garden, fruit or poultry farm often seem like needless bother to the hit or miss farmer. Said one of these to a successful dairyman, "You are like a slave to wait on a barnful of cows." So he was, but method, enthusiasm and success made the drudgery a pleasure. All success requires some details which in themselves are unpleasant, but zeal and head work make them anything but slavery.—American Cultivator.

Decrease in Stock Hogs.

The number of stock hogs now being fattened is 5.1 per cent less than the number a year ago. Reports as to size and weight of stock hogs indicate a condition of 95.1 as compared with a seven year average of 94.2.

Educating the Butter Makers.

The large creamery, the dairy school and public tests and exhibitions have helped educate butter maker and consumer toward an improved and uniform product.

Mrs. Anna D. Moore.

"No More Aches and Pains."

No. 826 Perdido Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA., March 27, 1903.

For over nine years I had been troubled with leucorrhoea. The discharge was yellowish at times but after the menstrual period it would become reddish, acrid and excoriating. This exhausted my system. I was continually tired while my appetite was poor, my digestion very bad and my sleep fitful and feverish.

Wine of Cardui was the one remedy which helped me in my distress. I soon found that it relieved the pain and imbued me with new strength and after the use of 22 bottles I was well. No more discharge. No more aches and pains and oh, what relief, only those who have had my experience can appreciate the value of such a fine medicine as Wine of Cardui.

Anna D. Moore
VICE-PRESIDENT, UNITED DAUGHTERS' INDUSTRIAL CLUB

WINE of CARDUI

Does not this letter convince the most skeptical sufferer that Wine of Cardui will bring her health? It is difficult to imagine a case where there are more discouraging features than this before Mrs. Moore began taking Wine of Cardui. Leucorrhoea is an inflammation of the vagina. It is really decay in the vital organs of womanhood. This inflammation often drives women into the direst stages of nervous excitement. At the menstrual period the continual itching is accompanied by the utmost agony. The life of the woman who lets this trouble run on as Mrs. Moore did is one of misery. But Mrs. Moore did not know what medicine to take to cure it. When she had Wine of Cardui brought to her attention she took it and continued the treatment until she was cured. The case was a chronic one and it took presistent effort to bring a permanent cure.

This cure can be secured by any woman who takes Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Moore tried everything else and continued to suffer. She tried Wine of Cardui and was cured. You can treat your case successfully in your own home and nobody need know anything about it. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today and begin the treatment.

— Wilkesboro Chronicle: Out on the Brushies, one morning last week, Mr. Rufus Frazier had a rather exciting experience. His dog treed what he thought to be a 'possum the morning after the snow fell. It was in a sort of a rock cleft. He reached in and got hold of what he thought to be the tail of a 'possum. He quickly jerked it out, but to his astonishment it was a big rattler, which struck at him, just barely missing his hand. The rattler ran back in the hole. He got his mattock and, digging into the hole, found three rattlers, which put up a stubborn fight before he got them killed.

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Haggins, of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had consumption, and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery, and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Dr. Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: This is the first certificate that I have ever given as to the merits of any medicine, but I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Biggers' Huckleberry Cordial. I consider it the best remedy that I have ever used in my family for Stomach and Bowel Troubles. 50c invested in a bottle of this medicine to be used in the beginning of any stomach trouble will often save life as well as a large doctor's bill. I have a friend whose life was, in my opinion, saved by the prompt use of Dr. Biggers' Huckleberry Cordial. For sale by all Druggists, 25 and 50c per bottle.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff Is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING. FEB. 20.

REFUSED AN EXEQUATUR.

Acting United States Consul Morgan En Route to Dalny Will Not be Received by the Russians.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Secretary Hay has been informed that Edwin V. Morgan will not be granted an exequatur by the Russian government, authorizing him to act as United States consul at Dalny. Mr. Morgan is now on his way from Washington to his post. He will sail from San Francisco and touch at Yokohama, at which point the State Department will be able to advise him a month hence what course to pursue. This decision on the part of the Russian government was not altogether unexpected, but it is nevertheless the subject of grave consideration by the State Department officials. It can be stated that up to this moment a decision has not been reached as to the answer to be made to the Russian government. It is explained that the reason for Russia's action is purely military, the army officers desiring that there shall be no foreign officials on the Liao Tung peninsula during the progress of hostilities. It also is suggested that as the United States consul would be charged with the responsibility for the protection of the Japanese, there would be many chances for severe friction which it is desirable to avoid.

The announcement is made that the decision in Mr. Morgan's case does not apply to the newly appointed United States consuls at Mukden and Antung. These consulates are in Manchuria, and the State Department taking the ground that the province is part of China would apply to the Chinese government for exequaturs for these consuls, not recognizing the right of any other power to intervene.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Market Active and Higher—Bull Leaders Took on Immense Loads.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19.—The cotton market opened active and remained active until near the close. Bullish sentiment was predominant and bulls controlled the market throughout the day. At the opening selling orders were heavy, evidently coming from shorts, but their offerings were readily absorbed. The bull leaders took on immense loads and continually reached out for more. Their buying, however, was not aggressive. At the opening the Liverpool market was considered disappointing and this encouraged the bears. They sent prices down about twenty points, but the bull leaders kept the situation well in hand and forced prices gradually up until they were about sixty points higher than the lowest levels, and about forty points higher than the close yesterday. Toward the close the market became quiet and with a general disposition to take profits, the closing was steady and from twenty-three to twenty-eight points higher than the close of yesterday, May closing twenty eight points higher than yesterday, at 14 cents.

THE WORLD'S COTTON.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, issued to-day, shows the total visible to be 3,777,920 bales, against 3,865,289 last week, 3,976,495 last year.

Of this the total of American cotton is 2,149,920 bales, against 2,843,289 last week and 3,929,495 last year; and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,028,000 against 1,022,000 last week and 1,048,000 last year.

HOUSE DISCUSSED NAVAL PROGRAMME

IT IS TIME TO CALL A HALT.

The Naval Appropriation Bill Under Discussion—Members of Committee Defended the Bill—A Plea in Behalf of Tobacco Growers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The House to-day began consideration of the Naval Appropriation bill, ten hours being allowed for general debate. During the general discussion Mr. Fitzgerald, Democrat, of New York, declared that our naval programme was to procure a naval force greater than that of Germany. He further said: "In all sections of the country the conviction, rightly or wrongly, is firm that the present occupant of the White House is apt to involve us in war with other nations," adding that the same belief has been had with respect to the head of another great nation "which may account," he went on, "for the fact that at a dinner on Lincoln's birthday at Grand Rapids, Mich., the highest compliment that Baron von Sternberg thought he could pay to President Roosevelt was to declare that he very greatly resembled the Emperor of Germany."

Mr. Fitzgerald said further that "If the prevailing belief is justified, and if the President is to be given four years of power in his own right, now that the great representative of the conservative force of the Republican party, the late senator from Ohio, Mr. Hanna, is gone to his reward, it may be wise for us to outdo even Great Britain in our naval programme. Should he (the President) not be made to feel that the sentiment of the country is for peace and not for war?

"A shrewdly conducted movement was initiated about two years ago to cultivate a public sentiment in favor of a mighty navy. Many prominent men whose business interests were closely identified with the shipbuilding industries, then banded together for the purpose of popularizing vast expenditures for the naval service. So stupendous have been the expenditures for the naval and military establishments that important needed public improvements have been indefinitely deferred."

Referring to the statement of Admiral Dewey that the sea force should consist of forty-eight battleships, Mr. Fitzgerald said that confirmed his assertion that the naval programme is based upon the theory that our navy should be larger than that of Germany.

It is time to call a halt upon much talk of an inflammatory character that is heard throughout this land, declared Mr. Fitzgerald, adding: "Public officials are the chief offenders by loose, indefinite and bombastic statements. The naval committee in its report is not entirely free from the disease."

In conclusion, he asked: "Are we to have a great navy merely to furnish summer holidays that high officials may play at war?"

Mr. Fitzgerald quoted the following from the report of the naval committee: "The rapidly developing complications of the whole Eastern situation demand that our navy shall be as effective as possible."

"Why? What have we to fear except the impetuosity of our present chief executive?" he asked.

Mr. Foss made an urgent appeal for the upbuilding of the navy, emphasizing the necessity of ship construction in time of peace, with the query: "What would Russia give to-day if she could call back some of her sunken ships?" He said in conclusion that when it became necessary for this government to strike, it should be prepared to strike a blow like that struck by Dewey at Manila.

Mr. Foss was strongly seconded by Mr. Meyer, of Louisiana, the ranking Democratic member on the committee who combatted the statement that the navy was too heavy, as charged, and declared it indispensable that we should have a strong navy. Referring to the Panama canal, he said he was for the canal and also for a navy to safeguard it.

Mr. Gaines, of Tennessee, made an appeal for the tobacco grower, contending for the removal of the tax imposed upon fatemmed leaf tobacco when stemmed by the farmer, which he asserted is a burden to the grower.

Speaking of the objectionable law, Mr. Gaines said it evidently had been written by some skillful lawyer for trusts and passed without Congress knowing what it was. The law as it now stands, he said, has paralyzed the liberty of the grower.

Mr. Stanley, of Kentucky, said in connection with Mr. Gaines' remarks, that an extract obtained from tobacco stems is shipped to Germany where a leaf grown there is immersed in it and then used as tobacco.

The House adjourned until to-morrow.

LYNCHING IN ARKANSAS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Feb. 19.—Glencoe Rays, a negro, hunted down by a mob, was burned at the stake to-day near Crossett. He was charged with the murder of J. D. Stephens, of Ashley county. Stephens, who was a wealthy planter, had a few words with Rays yesterday, the negro securing a shot gun and killing Stephens at close range. The negro then beat the body with the butt of the gun and made his escape. Bloodhounds were brought on a special train from Lake Village. They readily took the scent and traced the murderer to his father's house, where the negro was found hiding in a well. A mob several hundred strong, surged around and dragged forth murderer, who made a full confession. With hands and feet tied he was bound to a stake in his father's yard. Brush was plied around him, the torch applied, and the man slowly burned to death.

BAXTER & COMPANY.

Announce That They Will Pay All Claims in Full.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 19.—A. B. Baxter & Company, the New York brokerage house, which was caught in the recent cotton "corner" to the extent of $600,000, announced through their Pittsburg representatives to-day that they will pay all claims in full. The stockholders, it is said, have voluntarily gone down in their own pockets to meet their obligations, and although the absence of several influential members of the firm in Europe may necessarily delay liquidation a few weeks, it is said that dollar for dollar will be paid by the middle of March.

FUNERAL HONORS TO LATE SENATOR HANNA.

Imposing Services at Cleveland, O.—The Procession—Eulogy by Bishop Leonard—City in Mourning.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 19.—The nation, State and home city of Senator Marcus A. Hanna bestowed upon him this afternoon its last honors. Funeral services over the remains of the statesman were held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Shortly after the noon hour the casket was taken from the Chamber of Commerce auditorium and the funeral procession took up its slow march to the church, two miles away. At the head of the column rode a platoon of twelve mounted police, followed by three platoons of troops, all mounted on black horses and with swords at carry. The hearse came next and was followed by one hundred carriages, carrying the pall-bearers and official guests which included members of President Roosevelt's cabinet, Governor Herrick's staff, the delegations from the Senate and House of Representatives, members of the Ohio Legislature, city officials and delegations from several civic organizations. Immense throngs of people lined both sides of Euclid avenue from the down town section to the church entrance.

When the body and its escort reached the church the edifice was closed to all but members of the funeral party. The pall-bearers received the covered casket and with bared heads bore it in the church and placed it upon the catafalque in front of the altar. The casket was closely followed by members of the family. J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York financier, was of the family party and escorted Miss Phelps, a member of the Hanna household.

The customary service was read and Bishop Leonard delivered an eloquent eulogy. The bishop laid stress upon Mr. Hanna's integrity, purposefulness and service to humanity. Integrity, said the bishop, was a keynote in his life.

Long before the church was emptied the body of Senator Hanna, accompanied only by members of the family and Bishop Leonard, was on its way to Lake View cemetery, where a tender farewell was taken in Wade Memorial chapel. The only service there was a simple prayer by Bishop Leonard. The body was deposited in a crypt in the chapel.

As a mark of respect for the dead, business was abandoned from 12 to 2 o'clock throughout the city. For five minutes, from 1 o'clock to 1:05 o'clock, traffic on all the steam and electric roads was suspended. During a portion of that time people stood with bowed heads.

The body of Senator Hanna lay in State in the Chamber of Commerce from 6 o'clock until a few minutes past 11 o'clock this morning, as it did the preceding day, and during that time it was viewed by 25,000 people. Several thousands still stood in line when the doors were closed.

RIOT IN A POOL ROOM.

Attempt to Make Arrests Resulted in a Fight in Which Six Men Were Shot, One Fatally.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—In an effort to close up a pool room that has for a long time operated in the outskirts of Madison, Ill., across the river from St. Louis, three constables, augmented by a posse of citizens and bearing warrants for the arrest of six men connected with the pool room, precipitated a riot late to-day which resulted in the shooting of six men. One man will die. The wounded are: Lee Harlan, druggist, probably mortally; William Schooley, a posse man; Edward Harris, a spectator, not seriously; Edward Downs, seriously; two unknown, not seriously.

Warrants had been sworn out before Justice of the Peace Isenmeier, of Granite City, adjoining Madison, and placed in the hands of Constable John Glass and two other constables, for the arrest of several persons connected with the pool room. When the constables appeared two policemen were within and declared they had arrested the operators of the pool room and were guarding them. Betting was going on as usual at the time. The constables were ordered to leave the premises, which they did after argument. Proceeding through the neighborhood for the next half hour the constables organized a posse of armed citizens, numbering about fifty. The constables and posse then returned to the pool room and entered. They were at once ordered out and the doors were locked. The posse demurred and words followed. One posse man, it was stated, pointed a shotgun at Policeman Cambridge, who fired a revolver into the ceiling. Firing then became general. The policeman was badly beaten. The crowd in the pool room scattered hurriedly. When the fusilade was over the constables and posse had possession.

NO EMBARGO UPON NEWS.

Russian Government Abolishes Censorship on All Telegrams Going Abroad. Directed by the Czar.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19.—The Russian government to-day abolished the censorship on all news and other telegrams going abroad.

The lifting of the embargo, which has existed for generations upon the transmission of news from the Russian empire, came as a direct result of consideration of the subject by the Czar himself, and in some respects this abolition is regarded here as the most important act since the emancipation of the serfs.

Under a regime allowing perfect freedom to the foreign press it is believed that Russia will soon cease to be constantly subject to underground attack, and that she will see herself through honest spectacles. Officials believe that the new system will stop misrepresentation of Russian internal affairs and the spread of libels, supplied by enemies of Russia.

M. Plehve, minister of the interior, and Count Lamsdorff, the foreign minister, both joined in the recommendation that the censorship be abolished.

The international censorship is to be retained, but foreign dispatches are to be entirely free. Military censorship will continue at the seat of war.

WARM WIRELETS.

Information received from Postmaster T. C. Fuller, of Centreville, Ala., says the postoffice there was burglarized Thursday night. The safe was robbed of $800.

Lieutenant MacRae and six privates of the Philippine constabulary have been killed by a bolo rush of 500 fanatics while patrolling the east coast of the island of Samar. Private Saloman, of the Fourteenth cavalry, stationed at Jolo, has also been killed by bolomen.

RUSSIAN BASE OF LAND OPERATIONS

Harbin Selected as Main Point for Concentration of Troops and Munitions of War.

TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY.

Trains Crowded With Soldiers—Speedy Arrival of 120,000 Men Expected. Will Have Army of 400,000 in Manchuria in Twelve Days.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—A representative of the "Matin," who has reached the centre of the Russian military concentration at Harbin, after great hardships, due to the trans-Siberian railway trains being crowded with thousands of soldiers, in a dispatch dated from Harbin yesterday, confirms the announcement that that place will be the main base of the Russian land operations. Thus far the base has succeeded in maintaining its communication with Port Arthur. The concentration of troops, the correspondent says, proceeds systematically, and provision has been made for the speedy arrival of 120,000 men from the divisions of Moscow, Kieff and Varsovia. Before twelve days shall have elapsed the Russians will have disposed of an army of 400,000 men through Manchuria.

Russian Scouts.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19.—Major General Pflug, chief of staff to Viceroy Alexieff, has sent the following telegram to him at Port Arthur:

"Our scouts report that no Japanese have been seen either at Tsen Chu or Ping Yang, Corea. The population is indifferent towards us. The ice on the Yalu river is beginning to go out. Natives says that if a high tide comes in five days the ice will begin to drift. The west coast of the Liao Tung peninsula is covered with ice for a distance of a mile and a quarter to sea. None of the enemy's ships have been seen lately. There have been no fresh attempts to destry the railroad."

Russian Troops in Yalu Valley.

HARBIN, MANCHURIA, Feb. 19.—The Russian troops are concentrated in the lower Yalu valley. Everybody is in high spirits and daily expecting reinforcements.

Russian families are leaving Manchuria, owing to the dearness of provisions, all of which are required for the troops.

The Manchurian and especially the trans-Baikal railroads cannot cope with the demands for transportation. Women and children are unable to get trains and many are waiting at the stations, suffering from cold and hunger.

It is expected that there will be sufficient supplies of bread, meat, butter, petroleum and fodder, but not enough sugar, preserved meats and linen, and that there will be a great scarcity of these. It is not to be expected that such stores can arrive for some time.

Japan's Response to China.

TOKIO, Feb. 19.—The response of Japan to the request of China for a statement of its position in regard to the neutrality of the latter country, was made public to-day. Japan will respect the neutrality of China, so long as Russia does the same, and that the mausoleums and palaces at Mukden and Hsing Klang, and other public buildings in China, everywhere will be secure from any injury not attributable to the action of Russia.

"Furthermore, the rights of Chinese officials and inhabitants within the zone of military operations will, in their persons and property, be fully respected and protected by the imperial forces so far as military necessity permits. The imperial government have no intention to acquire territory at the expense of China as a result of a conflict."

It was further declared that whatever action Japan may take as a result of military necessity will not impair Chinese sovereignty.

The Fight at Chemulpo.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19.—The government report of the naval action off Chemulpo, Corea, February 8th, says the Russian cruisers Variag and Koriets sank a Japanese cruiser and a torpedo boat destroyer and crippled another vessel before returning to the harbor.

The government to-day received from the officers of the Variag and Koriets, who are now at Shanghai, their account of the fight at Chemulpo. The accounts show the admirable handling of the two Russian warships in the face of overwhelming odds. The officers confirm the statements that when the Japanese squadron of eight warships were off Chemulpo they were met by the torpedo gunboat Koriets which had been sent out to reconnoiter; that the Koriets on sighting the Japanese squadron, immediately returned to the harbor and rejoined the Variag, and that the Japanese followed to the mouth of the harbor and sent the Russians a summons to surrender. This message, the officers add, was disregarded, whereupon the Japanese threatened to enter the harbor and engage the Russians there. As this would have endangered the other vessels in the harbor, including the French and other foreign warships, Captain Rounnef, of the Variag, as senior officer, boldly gave orders that both vessels steam out and meet the enemy. The fight which took place outside between the Variag and Koriets and the eight Japanese warships resulted, according to the officers' report, in the sinking of two Japanese warships, one cruiser and one torpedo boat destroyer, and the crippling of another. The Russian ships were repeatedly struck, but they succeeded in re-entering the harbor where the captains decided to blow up their ships to prevent them from falling into the hands of the enemy. The survivors of the crews were taken off and the two warships were set on fire. The Russians also blew up a small steamer, the Sungari, which was acting as a tender to the Variag.

The official report of the Chemulpo fight gives the losses on the Variag at one officer and thirty-three men killed, two officers slightly wounded and seventeen men severely wounded. There were no losses on board the Koriets.

Russian Commanders-in-Chief.

ST. PETERSBURG, February 19.—War Minister Kuropatkin, who is going to the Far East, will be appointed commander-in-chief of the army operations there, and Vice Admiral Makaroff, who is now on his way East on a train which is expected to reach Port Arthur in ten days, breaking all previous records, is to be commander-in-chief of the navy.

Rear Admiral Jessen has been appointed to succeed Rear Admiral Ewald von Stackelberg, commander of the Vladivostock squadron. Rear Admiral Jessen has the reputation of being a bold sailor, who does not hesitate in an emergency. He will leave St. Petersburg immediately.

Although Viceroy Alexieff has been criticised in some quarters, there is no intimation that he will not retain the vicegroyalty in the Far East. It is possible, however, that the active direction of field movements may pass out of his hands.

Japan's New Cruisers.

TOKIO, Feb. 19.—The crews of the Nisshin and Kasuga, the two cruisers purchased by the Japanese government from Italy, were formally received to-day in Tokio. There was an enormous crowd of spectators. The sailors were welcomed by Mayor Ozaki, who said they had done more than undertake a perilous journey—they were the bearers and embodiment of the sympathy for Japan of the enlightened West.

LOSSES IN BALTIMORE FIRE.

Total Gross Loss to Insurance Companies $32,864,984—Business Improving With Wholesale Houses.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 19.—The Baltimore "Underwriter," in its issue to-morrow, will print the list of losses of all the fire insurance companies in the Baltimore fire. The total gross loss is $32,864,894, of which $6 000,000 falls upon the local companies. The estimated total of salvage is $1,769,762, which leaves a net loss to the insurance companies of $31,095,132. It has been learned that many of the large wholesale dry goods houses formed an insurance pool among themselves which amounted to about $5,000,000 from which practically nothing will be realized. Another development is that very few of the tenants of the so-called fireproof buildings carried any insurance.

At a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day a formal protest was agreed to against the alleged efforts of certain trunk line railways, terminating at New York, to do away with the differential on grain in favor of Baltimore, with the object of eliminating this port as a competitor in the grain trade of the country. An appeal is made to the railroads now using Baltimore as a terminal to combat these efforts.

At the Chamber of Commerce today merchants reported a cheerful outlook for the wholesale and jobbing houses with a surprising amount of business coming here, especially from the South.

RUSSIA'S REPLY.

Acceptance of Secretary Hay's Note Concerning China's Neutrality.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19.—Russia's reply to Secretary Hay's note on China was handed to Ambassador McCormick to-day.

The reply was given to Mr. McCormick by Foreign Minister Lamsdorf and was promptly dispatched to Washington. The terms of the reply have not been divulged here. It is known that they were along the lines previously indicated, being a virtual acceptance in principle, with the exception of Manchuria, which is now the theatre of war, and where Russia's special interests lie.

The foreign office also reported that Viceroy Alexieff explained that as Dalny was practically in a state of siege and without commerce, it was impracticable to allow consuls and consular agents there during the period of hostilities.
